

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

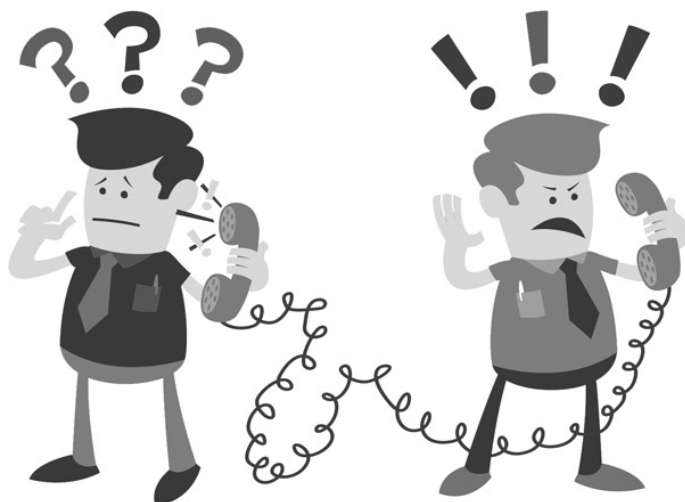

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

We all need to be patient sometimes.

Learning Outcome

Describe emotions and feelings in present and past situations in spoken or written texts and in work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What are some things you have no trouble waiting for?
- What are you impatient about?
- Are you the type of person who is early, late or always on time?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about customer relations.
- I can express willingness and refusal, and make promises and threats.
- I can talk about the purpose of an action or an event.

Let's Explore!

Does Vanessa realize that patience is a virtue?

* "Patience is a virtue" is an expression that means it is good to be patient although it is sometimes difficult.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: Well ... It's been three hours since he left and I am supposed to be getting the kitchen ready for dinner. I can't function without my fridge. The restaurant will open in two hours. Look I need an answer. Will someone be here with the hoses before then? No more ambiguity! Either way, you need to give me an answer in order that I know whether to cancel tonight's reservations or not! ... Well if you won't tell me then put me through to someone who will ... You'll call me back? Yup. Fine.
- Peter: Hey V?
- Vanessa: Oh I am relieved to see you.
- Peter: I am here in order to help you.
- Vanessa: Will you open the bags of ice and put them in the large sink? That's going to be my makeshift fridge.
- Peter: I'll do whatever you need me to do.
- Vanessa: In order to get prepared for dinner, I've sent Michael to get steaks, fish and duck. The menu is limited tonight and the kitchen will close at 10 in order to keep the food fresh. Can you promise you'll be here to get ice if we need it?
- Peter: You know I will. What happened to the guy who came here to fix the fridge?
- Vanessa: I don't know and, so as to not go completely ballistic, I have come up with a shortened dinner service and a limited menu for tonight. We have seven reservations which I am not cancelling.
- Peter: V, it's a great plan and it will work ... and I will do whatever it is that helps you, but I mean, why are you killing yourself? Why not close up shop for 24 hours? Your loyalty, perseverance and consistency are admirable but your sanity is of utmost importance.
- Vanessa: My sanity hinges on Jim bringing those darn hoses!

Let's Practice!

Vanessa will do anything so as not to disappoint her customers.

Instructions: Complete the sentences by choosing from the options that you are given.

in order to help

In order to get in order to keep

in order that I know

So as not to go

1. You need to give me an answer _____ whether to cancel tonight's reservations or not!
2. I'm here _____ you.
3. _____ prepared for dinner, I've sent Michael to get steaks.
4. The kitchen will close at 10 _____ the food fresh.
5. _____ completely ballistic, I have come up with a shortened dinner service.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa must be under a lot of pressure!

Instructions: Read the dialogue on page 2. Choose the best option to answer each question.

1. What can be said about Vanessa's phone conversation?
 - ☐ The person she called knows how to solve her problem with the fridge.
 - ☐ The person she called is willing to help her solve her situation immediately.
 - ☐ The person she called is not completely prepared to offer Vanessa a quick solution.
 - ☐ The person she called is talking clearly and ready to offer a solution.
2. What does she plan to do without her fridge?
 - ☐ She's going to offer a normal service in her restaurant.
 - ☐ She's going to offer a smaller service with fewer options in the menu.
 - ☐ She's going to offer a regular service with fewer options in the menu.
 - ☐ She's going to close the restaurant tonight.
3. What does Peter try to do?
 - ☐ He tries to encourage her to keep the restaurant open.
 - ☐ He tries to encourage her to work harder to get the service completed.
 - ☐ He tries to encourage her to close for a day to keep her mental health.
 - ☐ He tries to help her in order to keep her mental health.

Extension Activity

Watch a video on how to deal with an angry customer.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Go online and watch a video on youtube to find out how to deal with an angry customer.
- Write down key ideas on each point.
- Present your notes to a friend.
- Discuss how effective you think the advice is.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I listen to advice on dealing with an angry customer.

☐ ☐

I write down key ideas.

☐ ☐

I present my notes to a friend.

☐ ☐

I discuss what I think about the advice.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to function (verb): to work or operate in a proper or particular way
e.g. I can't function without my fridge.
- ambiguity (noun): uncertainty or inexactness of meaning in language e.g. No more ambiguity!
- to put someone through (verb): to connect someone by telephone to another person or place e.g. Well if you won't tell me then put me through to someone who will.
- to go ballistic (expression): to become enraged
e.g. So as not to go completely ballistic, I have come up with a shortened dinner service and a limited menu for tonight.
- to close up shop (verb): to cease business operation
e.g. Why not close up shop for 24 hours?
- admirable (adjective): deserving respect and approval
e.g. Your loyalty and perseverance are admirable.
- sanity (noun): the ability to think and behave in a normal and rational manner
e.g. My sanity hinges on Jim bringing those darn hoses!
- of utmost importance (adjective): of greatest concern
e.g. Your being constant is of utmost importance.
- to hinge on (verb): to depend upon
e.g. My sanity hinges on Jim bringing those darn hoses!

Learning Points

Willingness, Refusal, Promises and Threats

You use Will or Won't to express willingness, refusal, promise and threat in situations in the present or in the future.

There are different ways to use will or won't. In the following uses, we don't necessarily talk about a future action or an event that will take place at a point in time in the future. Instead, will or won't are used to express willingness, refusal, promise or threat related to an action which could be in the present or in the future.

Look at the following examples:

Willingness:

Will you clean the restaurant kitchen with me, please?

Refusal:

I will not tolerate this behavior in the kitchen any longer.

The computer won't start.

Promise:

I'll do everything I can to satisfy our customers.

Threat:

If you refuse to help me, I'll have to take extreme measures.

Examples:

- Well if you won't tell me then put me through to someone who will.
- Will you open the bags of ice and put them in the large sink?
- Can you promise you'll be here to get ice if we need it?

Learning Points

Purpose Clauses

You use purpose clauses to express the reasons for an action, or the intended motive of a specific situation.

You use words like to, in order to, so as to to introduce a purpose clause.

Purpose clauses are subordinate to the main clause. The order of the clauses can be interchangeable, as long as the relationship between the two remains clear.

Example:

I have come up with a new plan in order to stay focused.

In order to stay focused, I have come up with a new plan.*

You use to with an infinitive as a way to express purpose. We refer to this structure as an Infinitive of purpose.

Example: I called to find out if the order had been shipped.

You use in order to or so as to to emphasize an intention or a necessity.

Example:

I would like to call for a meeting in order to / so as to address the current issues in the restaurant.

You use in order that or so that when the second clause starts with a pronoun or a noun.

Example:

You need to give me an answer, so that / in order that I can address the problem quickly.

Examples:

- You need to give me an answer in order that I know whether to cancel tonight's reservations or not!
- So as not to go completely ballistic, I have come up with a shortened dinner service.
- I am here in order to help you.

